CONFUSION OF TERMS 'JEW' AND KHAZAR – CULTURAL IDENTITY THEFT

It is saddening that many authors of the past have been unaware, or unconcerned, about the very great distinction between the Khazars and the Israelites. As is amply demonstrated by the materials in this research package, the Khazars are no more Israelites, than the Chinese are Irish. And yet, the Khazar hegemony have successfully managed to carry out all manner of deception and thievery, treason and upheaval - all behind the moral, cultural, historical, and religious mantle legitimately belonging to the Israelites alone.

In modern terms we would refer to this as a matter of "identity theft"; especially when it is done for purposes of criminal deception. In the case of the Khazar mob, however, it has been perpetrated, or at minimum taken advantage of, in a uniquely wholesale manner. An entire culture has been hijacked. At the same time, the Khazars have benefited from the largess and misplaced affections, that Christians naturally have for the legitimate Biblical Israelite Jews.

For purposes of putting this package together, it has been necessary to include many texts which speak in vituperous terms, and with flagrant overgeneralization, about "the Jews." Of course, the relevant meaning of the text is understood only when the reader takes this to mean "the Khazar criminal syndicate." The only excuse I can make for these authors is that, at the time these books were written, they did not know or understand the difference. Such items were included because they contain information, the value of which outweighed that error. I apologize on behalf of these authors for any appearance of aspersion this may create toward good-hearted and legitimate Israelites.

Equally I am aware that merely being descended from Khazar lineage does not make one 'evil.' Such thinking would be infantile. The existence of an Italian Mafia criminal syndicate does not make all Italians evil either. The preponderance of both Italians and Khazars are obviously innocent.

But neither does this let the Khazar mob off the hook for their crimes. In fact, the Khazar mob has been quick to exploit the overgeneralization of anyone using the term 'Jew' to unclearly refer to them. This is a trap. To the Khazar mob this is an irresistible opportunity to employ the smokescreen of their hijacked identity. It is an opening to project the real sufferings of the legitimate Israelites upon themselves. Do not let them use it.

The Khazar mob are not Jews in the lineal sense, nor are they in the spiritual sense. They tend not even to be Jews in the most superficial religious sense, but rather Talmudic heretics. A real Jew, by lineage or conversion, has written on their doorposts and gates "Love God with all your heart, all your soul, and all your strength – and love your neighbor as your self" - and takes it to heart. I dare any of the malefactors discussed, living or dead, to describe how their lives met this challenge. Nor can the term "anti Semitism" have any relevance to them, because they are not Semites. To the Khazar mob, no one has to make any apology.
